

Quick Overview

Commencing Tuesday 24 April 2018

5.45pm – 7.00pm over 6 weeks (subject to numbers)

The what why and how of mindful awareness. Focusing on integrating psychological strategies in day to day life this program is for those new to secular mindfulness as well as experienced practitioners. It aims to support wellbeing, mood management and personal growth. Mindfulness is part of many current therapies and a useful aspect of any wellbeing plan. The first step for making choices is mindful awareness. With awareness we can take the next step to change behaviour and overcome hurdles, in line with our values and goals.

Program Facilitator

Judy Robinson

Clinical and Counselling Psychologist

Professional development as a Mindfulness Facilitator has included MBCT teacher training with Monash University; MBSR Professional Training Retreat with Jon Kabat-Zinn, Sydney; Insight Dialogue training with Gregory Kramer; participation in teacher-led silent meditation and retreats; and in a number of local and international mindfulness professional and academic networks.

To Make a Booking

To book into this group please go to <https://www.trybooking.com/UWLH>

To find out more information or to enquire about other groups please feel free to contact us on 55620466.

Program Details

The group meets for 1 hour and 15 minutes once a week for 6 weeks. We will focus on exercises and practices aimed at bringing present moment awareness into day to day life. There will be opportunities to attend follow up groups. A commitment to home practice is essential.

Cost: $360.00 over 6 weeks ($60.00 per week). Medicare rebates of $31.65 per week available for those with a Mental Health Care Plan and who attend that week's session